HOW DID THE FUND PERFORM LAST YEAR?

The Robinson Tax-Advantaged Income Fund, as measured by the Fund's Class C (ROBCX) returned 6.74% in 2024 compared to the 1.14% return of its benchmark, the Bloomberg Short- Intermediate 1-10 Year Municipal Bond Index.

WHAT AFFECTED THE FUND'S PERFORMANCE?

Fund performance can be attributed to the following:

- Market: the NAV total return for the closed-end funds held by the Fund returned 2.42%.
- Discounts: discounts on tax-exempt closed-end funds narrowed 4.07%.
- Interest Rate Risk Hedges: the Fund utilizes short positions in various US Treasury futures contracts to hedge out some of the interest rate risk. The hedges added 2.03% to the Fund's return.
- Security Selection: the Fund overweighted those tax-exempt CEF fund companies that preemptively increased their distributions and underweighted those CEF fund companies who did not. The fund companies that increased distributions outperformed those that did not by more than 4% for the year, which added more than 1.50% to the Fund's overall return.
